Students receive supervised instruction and gain experience with the clinical aspects of anesthesiology by working in the operating room with an attending physician. The course emphasizes: 1) perioperative patient care with a focus on intraoperative anesthetic and non-operative pain management, 2) using scientific principles and practices of anesthesiology to develop individual patient plans, and 3) developing technical skills involved with airway management, tracheal intubation, and IV infusion therapy. All electives whether on- or off-campus need to last a minimum of 4 weeks. A didactic series of lectures is included with this elective.
