Students will actively participate in patient care in the Slocum Center for Orthopedics and Sports Medicine. This elective is clinically oriented with emphasis placed on examination techniques and the diagnosis and treatment of common sports injuries. Students will participate in both surgical and non-surgical approaches to sports injuries. Opportunities will exist for students to participate with their attending physician in the University of Oregon Athletic Dept sports medicine clinics and events. Conferences may also include Medical Grand Rounds and Medicine Case Conference at Sacred Heart Medical Center.
