

Expanding care for a growing community

PeaceHealth investments improve access to vital services for Southeast Alaska

The healthcare needs of the Ketchikan Gateway Borough are changing. We're meeting those needs by improving access to care through new equipment and facilities, additional services and re-imagining our current processes — all to provide you with a better patient experience.

Reinvesting in Southeast Alaska

Ketchikan's largest employer

Our hospital and clinics employ nearly 500 caregivers, investing more than $193,000 every day on salaries, benefits and payroll taxes.

Last year, PeaceHealth made nearly $2 million in improvements in Southeast Alaska

Whether it's expanding our services or upgrading to the latest medical equipment, PeaceHealth provides high-quality care for patients across Southeast Alaska.

Operating PeaceHealth in Southeast Alaska

It costs more than $104 million each year to run our hospital and clinics in Ketchikan. Nearly 70% of this amount goes to our caregivers.
